

July 1, 1945

Ten Cents

MACLEAN'S

Canada's National Magazine

Adaptively Darton put her foot in her back, and began to cry.

144 Psychopharmacology 2001, 152: 143-150

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

"SOMETHIN'S GOTTA GO!"

By W. O. MITCHELL

YOUNG JAKE HAD THE PANTS started at the surface with the men and the first three men coming along in the back up on the ground. Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

A Red River cart lost Jake on Frontier Day race... but a democrat and a team of snuffy bonds won him another

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

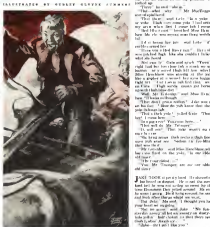

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

Don't you guess neither? Jake was on his feet. When do you know that from your face looking up?

'Snuffy's gets up! Snuffy's a pole!

"THE LAIRD O'DUNDURN"

● In 1777 the loyalist, Richard Beasley, crossed Lake Geneva—Burlington Bay—in a canoe, climbed the sloping cliffs and rested for an hour. The spot so charmed him that he decided to stay, laying claim to a vast section of the district and becoming Hamilton's first white settler.

Acquiring land was easy in those days, but going on from there—clearing it and bringing it under cultivation—was the pioneering on which Canada Unlimited was founded.

In 1835, Allan Napier MacNab built Dundurn Castle on the site of the Beasley homestead. It stands today a monument to the men who, with faith and determination, pioneered and sacrificed to develop Canada Unlimited—a monument to the glory of early Hamilton and a pride and pleasure to its present owners—the people of Hamilton.

Today, in the spirit of our pioneers, we must preserve our freedom and our stake in Canada. How well we shall succeed will be measured by our continuing purchases of Victory Bonds, War Savings Certificates and Stamps.

Hamilton's famed Dundurn Castle was built by Sir Allan MacNab and named after his ancestral house on Loch Earn, Perthshire, Scotland. It was always a complacent house with a bit of swag'r about it, and on its verandah the MacNab, in his swaying kilts, received many a grandee.

Painted by John Martin, O.S.A., C.P.E., based on data in the archives of Dundurn.

~ Canada Unlimited ~

Contributed by

O'Keefe's BREWING
COMPANY LIMITED